

ULTIMATE ASTROLOGY SECRET

SANJU PAISON

HOW PHASES WORK

What happens during each phase?

How do people get affected? Why do some people succeed while others fail? Why are some people preferred while others rejected, irrespective of talent, work, tardiness or ethics?

It's quite simple, really. If you know astrology or have seen a natal chart, you know, the circular one with weird symbols (planets) at different points on the circle, you know the natal chart is like a fingerprint. It's unique to every individual. While Uranus, Neptune and Pluto don't move so fast from the perspective of an earthling, other planets do. The sun moves by approximately a degree a day while the moon much more than that.

THE SUN MOVES BY APPROXIMATELY A DEGREE A DAY WHILE THE MOON MUCH MORE THAN THAT.

The remaining planets move slower depending on how far they are from us, with Pluto being the farthest and hence the slowest and most powerful. So, all this paints a very pretty and interesting picture. At the moment you were born all the planets (and Sun and Moon – generally called planets as well) were at different points in the sky, Hence your natal chart, which shows the exact degree and minute of the sign each planet was at.

THE PLUTO PHASES

A leading trine and a lagging orb of 15°

I came upon this realization as I realized that this is how all astrological transits work: conjunct – sextile – square – trine – opposite – trine – square – sextile – conjunct. Repeat forever. Trine (120°) is the most beneficial aspect. The first trine seemed more powerful because it's leaving a square, not leading to it. Give it an orb of 15°, the halfway point of any sign, apply it to the most powerful planet in astrology, Pluto... and voila, the most powerful point in the sky – Pluto Minus 135°.

This point was in Leo from 2003-16. It resulted in the glorification of power, success and money. The shallowness, spinelessness and deceitfulness of people.

THE GIVING UP OF PERSONAL VALUES FOR MONEY AND SUCCESS.

The self aggrandizement on the Internet. The giving up of personal values for money and success. The stepping over others for personal gain. The lies and scams on a massive scale. The massive and prevalent abuse of power. The glorification of human appearance and possessions.

FROM FAMILY TO WAR

HOW THE CANCER & LEO
PHASES CHANGED US

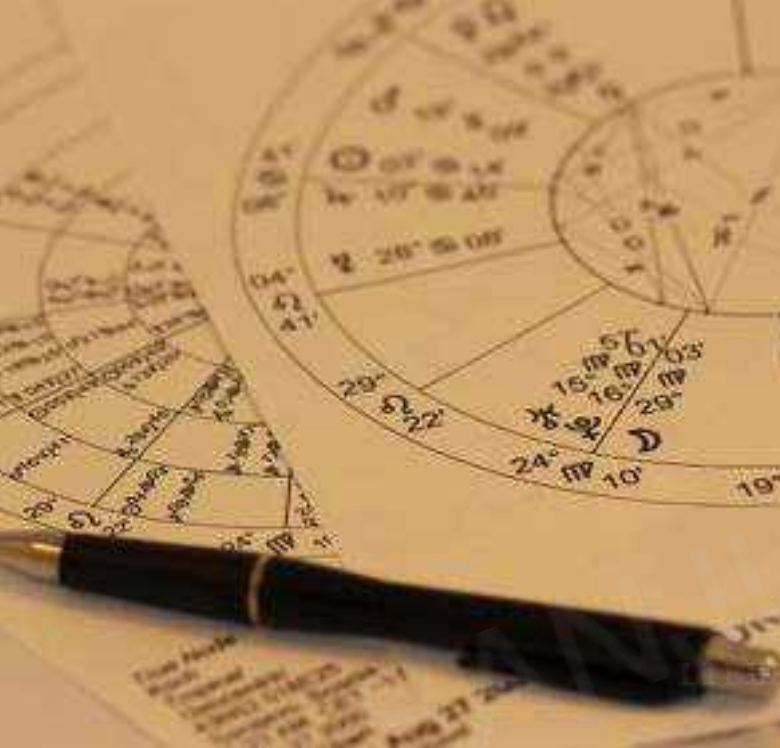

The blatant widespread and unchecked practice and general acceptance of racism. The unquestioning reverence to and admiration of powerful and successful people. The list goes on. By the end of the Leo phase humungous and all-pervasive lies cannot stand of their own accord anymore, fall down and get crushed under their own weight.

FAMILY WAS EVERYTHING.
FAMILY ACTIVITIES WERE EVERYTHING.

Before this was a softer Cancer phase. Beautiful movies and homely sitcoms ruled our minds and hearts. Family was everything. Family activities were everything. People loved mystery, intrigue and secrets. Music and food were interchangeable.

So, to get to my point, this is what makes your life different from that of another person. If it's the Leo phase (2003-16) and you have no Leo planets you're in trouble. You're in big trouble if you don't have planets in the two allies of Leo, Aries and Sagittarius, either. It's especially difficult if you have major planets like Sun or Moon or maybe a bunch of the other planets in square (perpetually at war) with Leo, as in 90° apart from Leo, which are the signs Taurus and Scorpio. Or even an opposition, as in the sign opposite Leo, which is the sign Aquarius.

So, that's basically it. Why one person's life is so different from another's. It is a particular phase (Leo in 2003-16) and you either have planets in beneficial signs or you don't. But not to worry as it all passes eventually and the next phase will roll out. The people who rule over you now will have their luck lessened or extinguished entirely, eventually, depending on their natal planets positions. Besides, midpoints of planets (as in if you have sun in Cancer and moon in Virgo your Sun/Moon midpoint will be in the middle sign, i.e., Leo) can also be of some help even if you have no planets in Leo or its allies, Aries and Sagittarius, during the Leo phase.

SO, THAT'S BASICALLY IT. WHY ONE PERSON'S LIFE IS SO DIFFERENT FROM ANOTHER'S.

For those who think Pluto is not a planet, well, no, but it's a binary system with moons and such and in astrology the whole system makes up one point in the sky as it is viewed from the Earth and serves well enough from an astrological standpoint.

LEO PHASE

2003-16

The Leo phase started off primarily with the War on Terror following the 9/11 attacks. At the time as in my life most people were being lied to on a grand scale. Shows like The Simpsons encouraged people to be stupid so they can be easily brainwashed. Shows like Criss Angel & The Carbonaro Effect were just outright lies where actors pretend to be bystanders. The viewer is duped endlessly.

Entertainment became all-pervasive. Self-promotion and selfishness became a virtue. Besides this, being positive, easygoing, outgoing, a travel bug, a foodie, all these are Leo behaviors that were forced on people through brainwashing. The only acceptable mentality was the glass half-full kind. The more planets one had in the fire signs (Aries, Leo, Sagittarius) the more adept one was at these kinds of behaviors and hence more successful than others during this time.

ENTERTAINMENT BECAME ALL-PERVASIVE. SELF-PROMOTION AND SELFISHNESS BECAME A VIRTUE.

Movies were flashy, slick, shiny and had more than one explosion for some reason or other. Actors & actresses had to be fair-skinned most of the time – like the sun, which rules Leo. It became acceptable to trample on others for personal glory but unlike in the Aries phase this fire phase needed a greater degree of concealment of racist motives while covert, active pursuance of the same was the norm.

PREVIOUS PHASES

Cancer, Gemini, Taurus and Aries Phases

The Matrix, Seinfeld, Mission Impossible, The Office, The Shawshank Redemption. These movies/shows defined the Cancer Phase (1990-2002). It's about getting to the bottom of how society works. Mystery and intrigue colored everything. Tremendous abuse of power as well as irreverence and disrespect for authority were the theme.

E.T., The Extra Terrestrial, Alien, My Cousin Vinny. These movies/shows defined the Gemini Phase (1979-89). Focus was on justice, lawyers, journalists, judges, court cases. Gift of the gab. On thinking. On intelligence. On communication, smart quips, and mediums of communication such as radio, newspapers and eventually the Internet..

E.T., THE EXTRA TERRESTRIAL, ALIEN, MY COUSIN VINNY. THESE MOVIES/SHOWS DEFINED THE GEMINI PHASE.

The Taurus phase (1965-1978) gave us such gems as The Godfather, The French Connection, Jaws, The Exorcist. The air was serious and morbid. Focus on loyalty, intelligence, horror, food.

Heroism, travel and exploration were the themes of the Aries phase (1949-64). The Catcher in the Rye, Lord of the Flies, Rebel Without a Cause and Lawrence of Arabia come from this time.

HOW THE PHASES AFFECT YOU

Depending on how many and which planets you have in each element your life changes.

PAGE 34

© Sanju Paison

First, get your free natal chart online.

Second, check what planets (Sun, Moon, Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto) you have in each element:

Fire (Aries, Leo, Sagittarius)
Earth (Taurus, Virgo, Capricorn)
Air (Gemini, Libra, Aquarius)
Water (Cancer, Scorpio, Pisces)

Third, place the planets in each of the time periods mentioned below.

1949-64 Fire (Aries, Leo, Sagittarius)
1965-78 Earth (Taurus, Virgo, Capricorn)
1979-89 Air (Gemini, Libra, Aquarius)
1990-2002 Water (Cancer, Scorpio, Pisces)
2003-16 Fire (Aries, Leo, Sagittarius)
2017-32 Earth (Taurus, Virgo, Capricorn)
2033-54 Air (Gemini, Libra, Aquarius)
2055-82 Water (Cancer, Scorpio, Pisces)

THE PLANETS IN EACH PHASE ARE THE ONES YOU EXPRESS DURING THAT PHASE.

NO PLANETS USUALLY INDICATES AN EXTREMELY DIFFICULT PHASE.

THE DIFFICULTY IS LESSENNED IF THERE ARE PLANETS IN THE PRECEDING AND/OR SUCCEEDING PHASES.

HAVING THREE OR MORE PLANETS IN A PHASE IS A SIGN OF GREAT SUCCESS. GREATER THE NUMBER, GREATER THE SUCCESS.

HAVING ONLY ONE PLANET DURING A PHASE MAKES YOU EXPLORE THAT PLANET'S STRENGTHS AND WEAKNESSES TO THE FULLEST.

HALFWAY THROUGH A PHASE YOU WILL START BUILDING ON THE PLANETS FOR THE NEXT PHASE BUT THEIR QUALITIES WILL BE HIDDEN TILL YOU REACH THAT PHASE.

A PHASE HAVING MANY PLANETS FOLLOWED BY A PHASE WITH ALMOST NO PLANETS USUALLY INDICATES CALAMITOUS TRANSITION.

CONSECUTIVE PHASES WITH ONE OR NO PLANETS AT ALL INDICATE THAT LIFE WILL PROGRESSIVELY BECOME VERY DIFFICULT.

A photograph of ancient stone ruins, likely a temple or forum, featuring a long row of tall, fluted columns. The sky is filled with soft, white clouds, and a faint rainbow is visible in the upper left. The ground is covered in cobblestones and some scattered debris. The text "WORLD SUPERPOWERS" is overlaid in the center in a large, white, serif font. A faint watermark "LIFEPREDICTION.NET" is visible across the middle of the image.

WORLD SUPERPOWERS

BYZANTINE (EASTERN ROMAN) EMPIRE

Byzantine Empire reached the peak of its power during the reign of Basil II, who ruled 976-1025. He was a member of the Macedonian dynasty, founded by Basil I back in 867. Under this dynasty a succession of capable rulers carried out administrative and economic reforms, codified the law and presided over a literary and artistic renaissance – though their rule was also marred by periods of political instability, civil war and attempted coups d'etat. Indeed, Basil II himself had to fight two rebellions during his first twelve years in power, in 979 and 989.

Byzantine power under the Macedonian dynasty was founded mostly on their organisation and wealth. The army was not especially large, but it was well-trained and well-equipped with a hard core of professional permanent regiments, the tagmata. The Byzantine navy was also at the peak of its power: in 960 Basil's predecessor Emperor Nikephorus had reconquered Crete from the Muslims at the head of 308 warships with 27,000 oarsmen and marines (and 50,000 land troops).

However, Basil II's reign marks the apogee of Byzantine power. His successor (and younger brother) Constantine VIII was a weak ruler who allowed the nobility to recover their power at the expense of the peasant soldier-farmers. Conspiracies, rebellions and civil wars marked the later years of the Macedonian dynasty. The army declined, with increased reliance on mercenaries rather than the citizen militia of the theme system. An attempt to reconquer Sicily in 1038-41 failed, and instead led to the Normans of Apulia taking over most of the former Byzantine possessions in Italy.

Finally in 1071, the Byzantine emperor Romanus IV was defeated by the Seljuk Turks at the battle of Manzikert (then backstabbed by a rebellion by his own subjects; he was captured, blinded and exiled). The Seljuks then overran most of Anatolia, reducing the size of the Byzantine Empire by half. – Quora

MONGOL EMPIRE

Genghis Khan died on August 18, 1227, by which time the Mongol Empire ruled from the Pacific Ocean to the Caspian Sea — an empire twice the size of the Roman Empire and Muslim Caliphate.

The Battle of Ain Jalut in Galilee in 1260 marked both the high point of the Mongol conquests and the first time opponents had ever beaten back a Mongol advance in direct combat on the battlefield. Though the Mongols launched many more invasions on the Levant, briefly occupying it and raiding as far as Gaza after a decisive victory at the Battle of Wadi al-Khazandar in 1299, they withdrew due to various geopolitical factors.

In 1271, Kublai Khan established the Yuan dynasty, which ruled over present-day Mongolia, China, Korea, and some adjacent areas, and assumed the role of Emperor of China. By 1279, the Mongol conquest of the Song dynasty was completed and Kublai became the first non-native emperor to conquer all of China.

By the time of Kublai's death in 1294, the Mongol Empire had fractured into four separate khanates or empires, each pursuing its own separate interests and objectives:

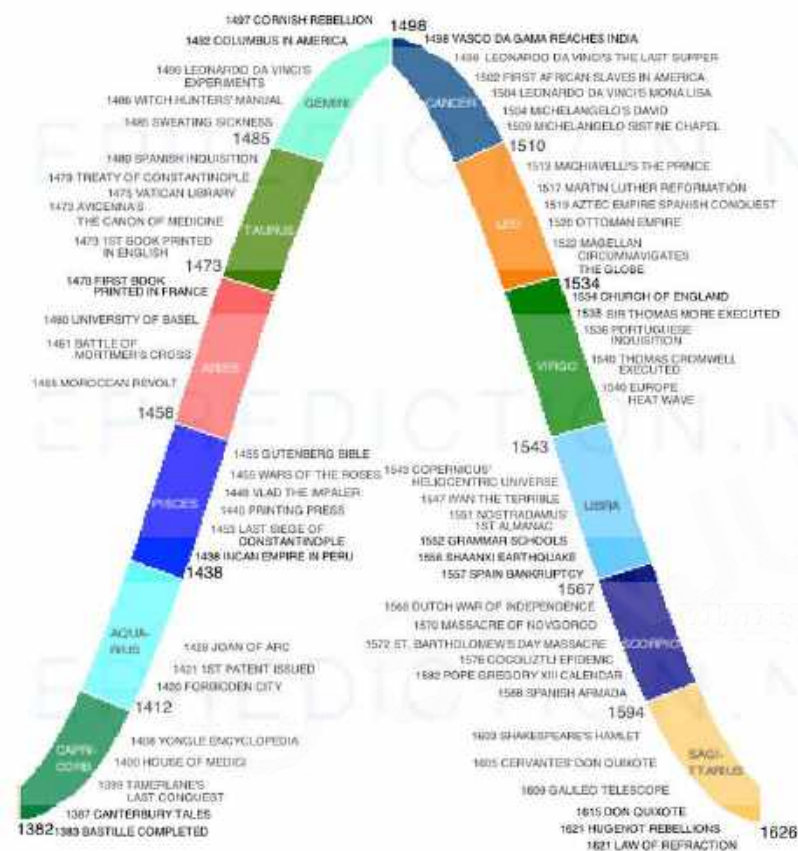

- the Golden Horde khanate in the northwest
- the Chagatai Khanate in Central Asia
- the Ilkhanate in the southwest
- the Yuan dynasty in the east based near modern-day Beijing.

In 1304 the three western khanates briefly accepted the nominal suzerainty of the Yuan dynasty,[10][11] but in 1368 the Han Chinese Ming dynasty took over the Mongol capital. The Genghisid rulers of the Yuan retreated to the Mongolian homeland and continued to rule there as the Northern Yuan dynasty, while the Golden Horde and the Chagatai Khanate lasted in one form or another for some additional centuries after the fall of the Yuan dynasty and of the Ilkhanate (which disintegrated in the period 1335–1353). — Wikipedia

MONGOL EMPIRE 1251 AD

1137-1382

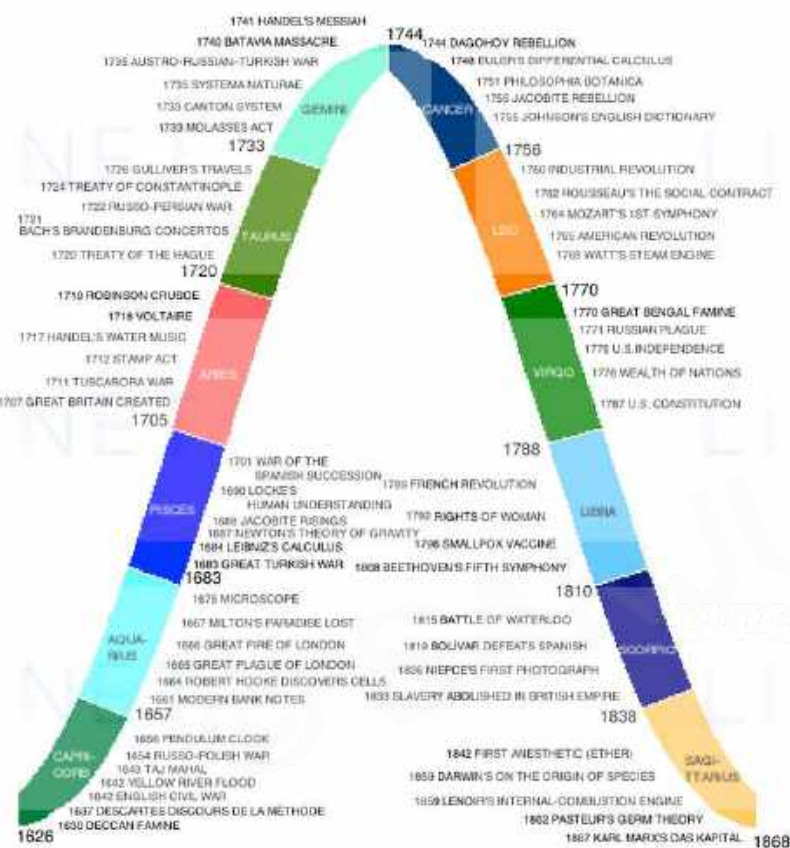

Spain and Portugal explored the world's seas and opened worldwide oceanic trade routes. Large parts of the New World became Spanish and Portuguese colonies, and while the Portuguese became the masters of Asia's and Africa's Indian Ocean trade, the Spanish opened trade across the Pacific Ocean, linking the Americas with Asia.

The three main countries in the first wave of European colonialism were the early Ottoman Empire, Spain and Portugal. The Ottomans conquered South Eastern Europe, the Middle East and much of Northern and Eastern Africa between 1359 and 1653. The Spanish and Portuguese launched the colonization of the Americas, basing their territorial claims on the Treaty of Tordesillas of 1494. This treaty demarcated the respective spheres of influence of Spain and Portugal. The expansion achieved by Spain and Portugal caught the attention of Britain, France and the Netherlands. The entrance of these three powers into the Caribbean and North America perpetuated European colonialism in these regions. — Wikipedia

1498 SPANISH/ PORTUGUESE EMPIRES

1382-1626

In the 18th century European colonization of the Americas and other parts of the world intensified and associated mass migrations of people grew in size as the Age of Sail continued. Great Britain became a major power worldwide with the defeat of France in North America in the 1760s and the conquest of large parts of India. However, Britain lost many of its North American colonies after the American Revolution, which resulted in the formation of the newly independent United States. The Industrial Revolution started in Britain in the 1770s with the production of the improved steam engine. Despite its modest beginnings in the 18th century, steam-powered machinery would radically change human society and the environment.

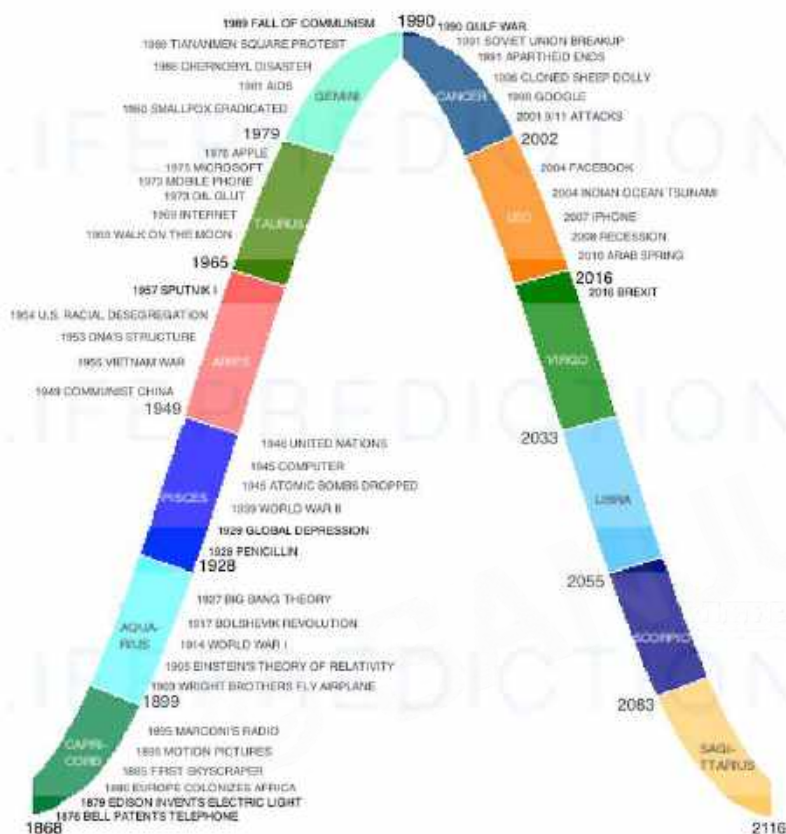

During the 18th century, the Enlightenment culminated in the French and American revolutions. Philosophy and science increased in prominence. Philosophers dreamed of a brighter age. This dream turned into a reality with the French Revolution of 1789, though later compromised by the excesses of the Reign of Terror (1793–1794) under Maximilien Robespierre. At first, many monarchies of Europe embraced Enlightenment ideals, but with the French Revolution they feared losing their power and formed broad coalitions for the counter-revolution. The Ottoman Empire experienced an unprecedented period of peace and economic expansion, taking part in no European wars from 1740 to 1768. As a consequence the empire did not share in Europe's military improvements during the Seven Years' War (1756–1763), causing its military to fall behind and suffer defeats against Russia in the second half of the century. — Wikipedia

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

1868-2116

The development and use of nuclear power has led to the United States assuming a position as the true World Military Superpower. The United States was the leader in planning, building, testing and actually using the most powerful nuclear weapon known to man. This country also led the world in relatively safe production of nuclear power. The only other competitor to the United States, the Soviet Union, had poor leaders, induced a poor economy, and eventually led the country to lose the race for superpower.

During World War II, the United States began the research and development of the atomic bomb. Code-named the Manhattan Project, it took place in a government built city in New Mexico called Los Alamos.

General Leslie Groves and physicist Robert Oppenheimer led the research to create this atomic bomb. The mission was to build, test and, if necessary, unleash an atomic bomb.

With the many people working on creating and building this bomb, they completed it within the short amount of time given. In July of 1945, they tested the nuclear bomb in New Mexico. It was a success. The very next month, an atomic bomb nicknamed "Little Boy" was dropped on Hiroshima. Only a few days later, the atomic bomb "Fat Man" was dropped on Nagasaki. It was around this time that the United States found out that nobody, not even Germany or the Soviet Union, was anywhere close to competing with the U.S. in atomic weaponry.

The atomic bomb was dropped not only to end the war with the Japanese, but to show the world, especially the Soviet Union, how powerful the United States was in its government, its military, its technology, and its people. The fact that it was a new bomb and being the first type of its kind ever created also caused an eagerness to use the bomb and see how it would work. These three factors are the reasons behind the United States dropping the atomic bomb on Japan, as they unknowingly and unintentionally began the nuclear age and the Cold War. — Wikipedia
