DR. EDUARDO MAYORA

Eduardo Mayora started his legal career in 1980 with sister firm Mayora & Mayora, becoming partner in 1990 and managing partner in 2000, and so brings around 4 decades of practical legal experience and a considerable amount of management expertise to the intellectual property operation. He has also had an extensive career in legal academia both locally and internationally and has sat on the boards of commercial banks.

Eduardo's practice covers tax, corporate mergers and acquisitions, banking & finance, corporate/commercial, as well as IP, particularly in the negotiations and transactions sphere. He is considered an industry leader in tax law, adding a valuable extra dimension to the firm's offering in matters relating to the acquisition of IP assets. He has been consistently recognized by several legal directories such as Chambers & Partners and The Legal 500 across both corporate and IP.

Eduardo oversees legal strategy for all three of the firm's offices in Guatemala, El Salvador, and Honduras, thereby ensuring a consistent high level of service to clients; his extensive managing partner know-how has been key to implementing the firms integrated IP service offering in these territories.
