

Neveskin™ Insurance Coverage Clarification

We're sharing an important clarification regarding Neveskin™ services and insurance coverage.

While Neveskin™ was previously branded as Cryoskin, it is not a cryotherapy service. In the past, this distinction caused confusion and led some estheticians to secure additional insurance coverage that is no longer necessary.

We have confirmed that Neveskin™ is covered under standard esthetics liability insurance, including ASCP coverage. No specialized cryotherapy insurance is required.

This clarification has been added to Neveskin™ owner resources and educational materials to ensure consistent communication across the system.

Neveskin™ Insurance Coverage – FAQ

Q: Is Neveskin™ considered a cryotherapy service?

A: No. Neveskin™ is not a cryotherapy service. While it was previously branded as Cryoskin, the service has since evolved and is no longer classified or treated as cryotherapy.

Q: Do estheticians need additional or specialized insurance to perform Neveskin™ services?

A: No. Because Neveskin™ is not a cryotherapy service, specialized cryotherapy insurance coverage is not required.

Q: Is Neveskin™ covered under standard esthetics liability insurance?

A: Yes. Neveskin™ is covered under standard esthetics liability policies, including ASCP coverage, as confirmed directly by ASCP.

Q: Why was there confusion about insurance coverage in the past?

A: When the service was previously branded as Cryoskin, it was often mistaken for cryotherapy, which led to unnecessary additional insurance requirements. The transition to Neveskin™ was intentional and helped clarify this distinction.

Q: Where can owners find this information moving forward?

A: This clarification will be included in:

- Neveskin™ owner resources
- Ongoing Neveskin™ education and training materials

If you have additional insurance-related questions, please consult your insurance provider for confirmation specific to your policy.